So we are delighted to present a brand new festival hub this year at Summerhall, Edinburgh's 'Art Laboratory'. Over 8 days you can enjoy our biggest offering of live shows, exhibitions, food, drink and Krispy Kreme all on one magical campus.

The festival finale Gala Show moves to the Festival Theatre, a venue directly associated with legendary magician and close friend of Houdini's - the Great Lafayette, whose name appears on our annual award. Join Cirque du Soleil stars alongside international illusionists for a wonderful night of magic on the final day of the Festival.

Thanks to everyone who makes this Festival possible.

Summerhall, Red Theatre • £11/£9 conc/£6 child

Duration: 60mins

Ages 10+

Breathtaking news: Alfred Hitchcock's long-lost first silent film "Number 8" has just been found! The discovery of this thrilling spy story was made by magician Robert Jägerhorn. Due to some unexpected events, Robert is forced to present the story without the film. A charming, light and playful hour, bubbling with mimicry of silent movies, chaplinesque slapstick, excitement and magical disappearances.

Cirque-Circulaire "Working Class"

Sat 27 June - Fri 3 July 8.45pm

Summerhall, Red Theatre • £11/£9 conc/£6 child

Duration: 50mins

Working Class focuses on a man in different phases of his life, from desk-cleaning caretaker-turning-administrative-clerk moving up to become the boss. Living with clockwork regularity, he frequently goes searching between the cracks to find colour and dreams before eventually falling back into relentless work. Becoming more and more addicted to the surreal, he unexpectedly leaves the trodden path... with all the consequences. A compelling, wordless performance in which the impossible is seemingly obvious.

MagicFest has never had a performance of this nature before. Flemish circus company, Cirque Circulaire, founded by Benjamin Rummens, doesn't just demonstrate magic illusions but interweaves them beautifully into a poetic story, representing a new magic movement - 'Magie Nouvelle'.
