R Paul Wilson - How Magic Works

The real secrets depend on principles that can elevate the simplest effect and create genuine moments of magic. This lecture explores these ideas through Paul's experience and repertoire.

R Paul Wilson is star of the BBC's "The Real Hustle" and a leading authority on con games, cheating and the art of deception. He is also considered to be one of the world's finest close-up magicians and sleight of hand experts

Hector Mancha - Pickpocketing and Silly Tricks

Hector Mancha is a multi-disciplinary artist specializes in card magic, parlour magic, pickpocketing, manipulation, hands shadows and improvisation. All of which he'll share with you in the context of a performance. This is his first ever UK lecture.

He has been awarded:

Gran Prix in World Champion 2015 (the highest award in magic)

World Champion in Manipulation 2015

Spanish Champion of Manipulation 2014

First Prize White Magic Festival 2014

Magician of the year in Spain 2012 (Ascanio's Award)

North American Champion Close-up Magic 2011

Colin Cloud – Who Gives a St

Colin Cloud is a forensic mind who mixes mind magic and brain science with his love of Arthur Conan Doyle's works, resulting in him being described as the closest thing in the universe to the real life Sherlock Holmes.

In his lecture Colin will be talking about how to make people care about what you do. And some of the questions he asks himself when I'm constructing routines, scripts and entire shows.

Prof Richard Wiseman - Magic for YouTube

Professor Richard Wiseman has been described by one Scientific American columnist as '.... the most interesting and innovative experimental psychologist in the world today'. He has written several bestselling popular psychology books (including The Luck Factor, Quirkology, and 59 Seconds), and has sold over 3 million copies worldwide. His research into a range of topics including deception, illusion and persuasion have been published in the world's leading academic journals.

His YouTube channel has received over 350 million views and is one of the most watched channels in the UK. Richard was listed in the Independent On Sunday's top 100 people who make Britain a better place to live, and has acted as a consultant for Derren Brown, Brain Games, Your Bleeped Up Brain, and Mythbusters.

Richard began his working life as a professional magician and is a Member of the Inner Magic Circle. He completed his PhD at the University of Edinburgh and currently holds Britain's only Professorship in the Public Understanding of Psychology (University of Hertfordshire).

Kevin Quantum (AKA McMahon) – Panel Discussion

Kevin annually produces one of the biggest magic events in the world (Edinburgh International Magic Festival) and sells tickets to the public for live magic shows.

He has appeared in BBC documentaries ("Titanic", "Dissection"), consulted for the National Theatre of Scotland and broken a Guinness World Record. He was the first magician to perform a magic act at the Globe Theatre in London, taught Eddie Izzard magic for a recent movie and has produced some of the most inventive performance magic formats in recent years ("The Secret Room", "Tower of Illusion", "Magic a la carte"). He has also had much recent success with magic-comedy-sketch-group "The Colour Ham" (nominees at Scottish Comedy Awards 2014,2015).

Candice Edmunds – Panel Discussion

Candice Edmunds graduated from the Royal Conservatoire Scotland with a BA (Acting) in 2002. In 2003 she founded the award-winning Vox Motus with Jamie Harrison. Their aim was to create innovative, visual contemporary theatre that would appeal to their non-arts based peers.

Ours is a theatre of story-telling visuals, transformational design, magic, comedy, music, physical performance, puppetry, multi-media and most importantly thrills.

For Vox Motus Candice has co created and directed Dragon, The Infamous Brothers Davenport, The Not-So-Fatal Death of Grandpa Fredo, Bright Black, Slick, How to Steal a Diamond and Interference. Candice has co-authored all the company's productions, either as a writer or dramaturge.

Vox Motus's productions have toured Scotland, England, Ireland, Germany and China. They have been nominated for and won numerous awards, including the UK Theatre Award for Best Production for Children and Young People 2014 and a Fringe First. Dragon was most recently staged at the Edinburgh International Festival.
